The HEADLINE

Welcome to the penultimate News Cycle before our Christmas break. As you can imagine the school is happily preparing for all the lovely things we do as we come into the festive season. The children are busily rehearsing for their Christmas performances and are looking forward to the special Mr Bean event and the Christmas disco, both arranged by FOWPS, and of course, the annual favourite, Christmas lunch! All the children looked magnificent in patterns on Children in Need day and they made some wonderful posters for our anti-bullying week. On Tuesday the children were recorded singing some of their favourite Christmas carols and the CD is now available to order (which will make a wonderful Christmas present for all the relatives...) Y3 had an exciting time at Ipswich museum and Y1 had a great time baking up a gingerbread army with Bee Farrell from the Tide Mill. Y5 made cakes galore to sell and raise funds towards their African Adventure - thank you to all you generous and talented bakers for making it such a success.

You've heard of the three tenors,
now meet the three bakers...

Y1 Bake with Bee!

On Wednesday 27th November Y1 baked delicious gingerbread men with Bee Farrell from the Tide Mill, using Tide Mill flour! Bee said she was very impressed with their baking skills!

KIDS circle

Last week: Either both statements are true or both statements are false. They can't both be false as they never lie on the same day; therefore both statements are true and the day is Sunday

Alice in the Forest of Forgetfulness...

Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum look identical. One of them lies on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays and the other lies on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays (they tell the truth on the other days).

Alice meets them and they make this statement:

First One: I 'm Tweedledum
 Second One: If that's really true, then I'm Tweedledee!

Which is which?

Recommended Reading...

Tayah in Y2 recommends

"I saw his wife and I liked that. I also like the part where he is in jail and his friend saves him."

& another thing...

Did you know that there is a pharaoh's curse? It is believed by some people that bad luck, illness or even death will come to those who disturb a Pharaoh's tomb! For example Lord Carnarvon, who funded the unearthing King Tut's Tomb, died shortly after the discovery. He was bitten by a mosquito, it became infected and then he died... And at that exact moment the lights in Cairo mysteriously went out...

If you would like to recommend a book to your school mates you can e-mail your recommendation to comms@woodbridgeprimary.suffolk.sch.uk. Don't forget to include your first name and what class you are in (and remember to ask Mum or Dad before you use the computer!)

Journey to Ancient Egypt

'It was a cold and blustery winter's day when Y3 set off to Ipswich Museum.' - Libbie

'Me and Reagan ...spotted a python!!! Although it was stuffed and dead.' - William

'Our group got to be archeologists. It was fun.' - Joshua

'I held an object around 3,000 to 4,000 years old.' - Daisy

'Downstairs I saw a woolly mammoth.' - Tyler

'It was the best trip ever!' - Eva

'I made a scarab beetle out of clay and it was so so fun.' - Connie

'We all went to the gallery and did some games. One was writing our name in hieroglyphics.' - Francesca

Children in Need

On November 15th the school was buzzing and a riot of bright colours and different patterns. There was a special Children in Need assembly given by Mrs Moore and everyone had a really fun day!

Y5 Cake Sale

Y5 had a cake sale on 20th November to raise money for their African Adventure trip. Y5 sold most of the cakes and some lucky ones got to devour the last few! Riley in Y1 said, "I liked the icing on the elephant cookies!" Jack, also in Y1 said, "I really liked the chocolate buttons on the chocolate cupcakes." Y5 raised a fantastic £145.55 towards their African Adventure. Thank you to all the lovely bakers and to the ones who bought and ate the cakes - By Charlie & Peter Y5

Creative Star!

Laura in F2 drew a picture and sent it into a magazine and the magazine printed it. Laura received a certificate and a sooty puppet. Well done, Laura! What a creative star you are!

Super Heroes!

F2 would appreciate donations of Superhero stuff - comics, stickers, rucksacks, items of clothing... in fact anything that has a superhero on it!

Please bring your donations to Miss Rozzier in F2.

Exhibition

Which is your favourite big story in a little space? Come and judge for yourself at our Nativity in a Shoebox Exhibition on Monday 2nd December after collecting your child/children at 3:30pm.

Christmas CD's

On Tuesday 26th November the children recorded some Christmas songs onto a CD. If you would like a copy please complete the order form that was sent home and return it to the school office by Monday 2nd December.

Parent Questionnaires

A general questionnaire relating to school will be coming home soon and we would appreciate your feedback. In the new year there will be further issue related questionnaires, but more about those nearer the time.
